

ILM Level 7 Award in Leadership & Management

A key part of the role of senior managers is to shape the strategic context and vision for their business. In turn, the extent to which these translate into business performance is entirely dependent on the ability of senior managers to inspire, engage and align people across their business.

This programme has been designed for practising senior managers, providing them with the opportunity to explore how they can develop leadership capability within their business as a means to unlock its true potential.

Learner Journey

This blended programme combines executive coaching, webinars and facilitated peer learning to give a 100% virtual learning experience, backed with unlimited support from your tutor.

ILM Level 7 Award in Leadership & Management

Qualification Overview

You will cover one mandatory unit with the following key learning points:

Unit 1 – Developing Strategic Leadership and Management Capability

- Analysing and reviewing strategic context.
- Recognising and evaluating espoused strategic leadership and management capabilities.
- Aligning leadership and management actions with desired capabilities to meet stakeholder needs.
- Sources of information and development available to senior leaders and managers including professional networks.
- Designing and critically evaluating the impact of improvement plans.

Programme Features

Induction

At the start of the programme we will arrange a 1-hour webinar to take you through all aspects of your learning journey and explain how we will work with you at every stage. You will also receive a candidate handbook capturing all the information you will need to help you study.

Assessment

You will complete a structured assignment of approximately 4,000 words. We will provide you with detailed input and guidance on completing this and give feedback on your drafts.

Tutorial Support

We're here to maximise the benefit you and your business take from completing your qualification. With this in mind, throughout your programme you will receive unlimited 1:1 support from a specialist tutor.

At WDR we've over 50 year's experience of helping businesses and their people to unlock their potential by creating innovative learning solutions with lasting benefits.

We're proud to be an accredited centre of The Institute of Leadership & Management which is Europe's largest management body and is part of the City & Guilds Group.
